Attention: Please,

I am John Robinson, the Head of file Department in Tesco Bank Plc here in London United Kingdom. I wish to notify you again that you were listed as a beneficiary to the total sum of Twelve Million Five Hundred thousand British pounds in the codicil and last testament of our deceased customer Late (NAME WITHHELD). I contacted you because you bear the same surname identity and therefore I can present you as the beneficiary to the inheritance.

I therefore reckoned that you can receive these funds as you are qualified by your name identity. I shall provide you with the legal papers in my possession that you will present to our bank as prove of your claim for immediate processing of the fund release to you, in your acceptance to co-operate with me on this deal.

Kindly forward to me your letter of acceptance; your current telephone and fax numbers and a forwarding address to enable me file in an application of claim with our bank on your behalf.

Yours Faithfully,
Head of file Department,
Mr. John Robinson.
